

University of Derna

Faculty of Arts

Master's Program Arabic Language Department

Master's Program in the Arabic Language Department (Literature - Linguistics)

Department Vision:

The Arabic Language Department believes that the Arabic language, with its representation of the nation's identity and as the language of its upright religion, is the great bond that unites the nation and gives it its distinction among the nations of the world. Therefore, this department will work to serve this language, care for it, and spread its rules, ensuring that this language remains a vessel for thought and sciences, preserved and cared for throughout time.

Department Mission:

The mission of the Arabic Language Department is to contribute to the preservation of the language of the Holy Quran, to pay attention to its brilliance and enhance its value in the hearts of its people, and to prepare qualified national competencies in the field of Arabic language and literature who serve their religion, nation, language, and country.

Department Objectives:

- To take pride in this language, place it in its rightful position, and enhance its value in the hearts of its people.
- To study its rules in various fields and teach them to students appropriately.
- To discover the secrets of this language and understand its intricacies.
- To prepare specialized competencies in the fields of Arabic language and literature in terms of teaching, research, and practice.
- To prepare scientific cadres with high specialized qualifications capable of serving the community.
- To develop scientific research in a way that serves the development of society and contributes to its progress.
- To strengthen cooperation and communication with the social environment and scientific and research institutions.

Program Outcomes:

- Preparing scientific cadres that suit the Libyan labor market.
- Creating research areas related to the language.
- Raising the level of professional performance of educational outputs.
- Continuously striving to keep abreast of developments in the field of specialization.